FOREWORD

Founded in 1472 in the city of Ingolstadt and relocated to Munich in 1826, Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München (LMU) can look back on a rich academic tradition encompassing almost 550 years. LMU’s reputation for outstanding academic achievement is known around the world. One indication for this can be seen in the fact that it is a founding member of the League of European Research Universities (LERU). All in all, the University cooperates closely with more than 400 international partner universities and research institutes. These cooperations cover areas ranging from academic contacts and student exchanges to the design of joint degree programs and sophisticated summer programs.

By continuing to follow the path of global networking with renowned partners on all continents, LMU fosters international research and exchange. For several years there has been a focus on cooperation with Chinese universities, which is exemplified in the CSC-Program and above all in the China Academic Network project, established with leading research universities in the fields of Life Sciences, Health, Environmental and Geosciences, Humanities and Social Sciences. By offering a wide range of programs and a tailor-made Europeans Studies program especially for partner universities, the Munich International Summer University (MISU®) supports the objectives of LMU.

For students, MISU® is an opportunity to experience LMU at a personal level. Regardless of whether they take part in a Summer Academy or in one of the dedicated German Language Courses, they benefit from access to renowned professors and teachers who will inspire them to broaden their thinking. Besides, all MISU® programs include extracurricular social and cultural activities, enabling participants to gain valuable insights into a foreign culture during their stay. Not to be forgotten are the tuition fee waivers which are awarded to selected students. One can hardly imagine a better ambassador for LMU than someone who returns home from a summer program fully satisfied by his or her experience.

The array of Summer Academies and Partner Programs has been continually expanding over the last years. Especially the European Studies Program in cooperation with Chinese partner universities is a perfect complement of the LMU China Academic Network project. This summer, more than 1.000 participants representing 87 nationalities participated in one of the courses offered by MISU®.

My thanks go to all those who have contributed to its success.

MISU™ at a GLANCE

History

During the 1920s and 1930s LMU Munich hosted summer courses pertaining to German language and literature. The first course to be documented was a German language class in the summer of 1927. After a hiatus lasting several decades, LMU Munich restarted its summer activities in 1998, then under the name of Internationaler Münchner Sommer. Subsequently, the number of language classes has grown, along with the establishment of completely new Summer Academies covering a broad range of academic subjects. In 2008, LMU’s summer courses were integrated into the Munich International Summer University, or MISU™, giving a distinct vision and common standards to the various programs as well as consolidating its role as an international institution of LMU Munich.

Concept and Key Features

Summer programs are valued as an instrument for improving the profile of a university and a chance to showcase its academic strengths to an international cohort of students and their home universities. As an institution of LMU Munich, MISU™ curriculars are developed and classes held by LMU staff, partly in cooperation with outstanding German and international partners. All courses guarantee a high academic standard. Small classes, as well as modern and interactive teaching methods, ensure that students are fully engaged in their studies. In general, it is possible to earn credits (usually ECTS credit points in accordance with the European Credit Transfer System) for MISU™ Summer Academies and Language Courses. The programs are academically intensive, but offer far more than an academic experience alone, as the participants also learn a great deal about their host city and country during their stay. In addition, the students are supported by a broad spectrum of services, such as detailed prearrival information and the organization of their accommodation. All MISU™ courses and activities are of a non-profit nature: the fees for participants are calculated to cover the costs only. And, of course, MISU™ strives to offer financial aid too, in order to facilitate participation. In 2011, all members of the MISU™ Academic Board approved a concept which includes these key features.
Objectives

MISU aims at providing its participants with high-level academic knowledge as well as an unforgettable stay in Munich, while simultaneously enhancing the international visibility of LMU Munich and its academic strengths. Summer programs are also valued as a means of developing international cooperation with partner institutions. For international students, MISU offers an excellent opportunity to gain insight into research and teaching at LMU. Courses can serve both as an alternative to longer exchange programs as well as a pathway to further studies, thus increasing student mobility and attracting students of extraordinary caliber. Furthermore, MISU is designed as a long-term undertaking, with a spectrum of courses representing the relevant academic subjects of LMU Munich. Hence to increase the number of Summer Academies is another important objective for the future.

Responsibilities

The MISU Academic Board functions as an advisory panel and is responsible for both quality control and quality assurance. Six persons are members of the board: the Vice President for International Affairs, who acts as chair; three LMU professors, each of whom represents a different discipline - the social sciences, the natural sciences, and German language and literature studies - and who advise on academic matters; the head of the International Office and the executive director of the IUCM, who advise the board on administrative and non-academic concerns.

Three parties shoulder MISU’s practical organization. As part of the administration of LMU Munich, the MISU office is the point of contact within the university. The International University Club Munich (IUCM) is responsible for logistics. Academic staff members of LMU Munich prepare schedules and select participants, along with holding classes, testing, and writing certificates.

See affixes for an organizational chart and the names of the current board members.
MISU LMU OFFICE AND MANAGEMENT

- Organization
- Events
- Network and Communication
Organization

The MISU® office was established in the summer of 2007 as a successor organization of the ‘International Summer Munich’, the summer retreat at LMU since 1998, in order to coordinate existing summer programs, to cooperate in developing new ones, and to promote communication about MISU® within LMU, to LMU partners, and to interested people around the world. The International University Club Munich (a registered non-profit association of former LMU students, or Verein in German, abbreviated as e.V.) has been working since its establishment in 1996 with LMU’s International Affairs Office in order to enhance the internationality of LMU Munich by assisting international students. The cooperation between LMU and IUCM is laid down in an agreement, through which IUCM assumes responsibility for MISU®’s organization. IUCM’s activities include the organization of: accommodation usually in student residences; excursions e.g. to Neuschwanstein Castle, Berlin, Salzburg, or the Dachau Concentration Camp Memorial Site and the social and cultural program (e.g., opera, museums, soccer games, the annual Welcome Event); plus the handling of applications and participant fees for several courses.

Events

There are three prominent MISU® events during the year: the Annual Meeting of the program managers, the meeting of the Academic Board, and the MISU® Welcome Event.

The Annual Meeting is a get-together of those involved in the organization of a MISU® Language Course or Summer Academy. The 2017 Annual Meeting took place in April. Course directors and course organizers, staff of LMU’s International Affairs Office, the MISU® Office and the IUCM participated and discussed their most recent experiences. The Annual Meeting is primarily conceived of as an information exchange concerning solutions put forward by other MISU® course staff, in particular with respect to practical questions. The program for the coming year is another important item on the agenda as well as the evaluation of MISU® for the past year. For questions and outcomes of the evaluation 2017 see affixes.
The Welcome Event is one of a few opportunities to meet students from other courses, thus giving an impression of MISU as a whole. This year it took place in the afternoon and evening of August 3. The director of the International Office, Dr. Stefan Lauterbach, gave a warm welcome to the approximately 500 guests. Afterwards MISU participants, teachers, and invited guests had the opportunity to engage in conversation while enjoying traditional Bavarian food and drinks to the sound of international music sent in by the participating summer school students.

Network and Communication

The MISU office networks both within LMU and externally. University-internal communication involves the administration - most notably the University Executive Board - on the one hand, and members of the academic staff, on the other.

In the light of the fact that the internet is essentially the main source of information worldwide, the maintenance and actualization of the MISU sites is a main concern of all involved parties. The summer courses portal of the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD) and other instructional summer school portals are also instrumental in informing young people around the globe. Flyers for MISU are produced in cooperation with Haak & Nakat (an agency which also created the LMU corporate design), the MISU office supplying texts and dates. Other platforms which report regularly on MISU include: the newsletter of the International Office, or LMU’s international newsletter (insightLMU).

The LMU representatives in the US, China and Brazil, as well as the colleagues at International Offices of LMU partner universities, are further key contacts, often just as true of people encountered at visits, fairs, and other events, and delegations visiting the International Office of LMU Munich.
MISULMU® Summer Academies offer high-level instruction in various scientific subject areas of LMU Munich; opportunities range from demanding undergraduate courses via advanced seminars to practical research experience. Held in English, they are an excellent opportunity for international students to gain a valuable first insight into researching and teaching at LMU. MISULMU® always strives to enhance the number and to broaden the spectrum of subjects of its Summer Academies.

In 2017, a total of 12 programs were organized in the fields of law, media, economics and entrepreneurship, political sciences, medicine and natural sciences.

In the course of this four-week program, medical students from around the world get a close-up view of the everyday routines in an oncology clinic.

Topics and objectives: Participants spend the first part of the day on the oncology wards, learning the daily routines, accompanying patients from reception through diagnostic procedures to therapy sessions. The afternoons are taken up with courses on the latest diagnostic methods or therapeutic approaches, and discussion of individual case studies in small groups. In addition, they work with actors on aspects of problem-oriented communication, a vital element of the medical professional’s skill set. As well as getting to know the day-to-day routines on the wards, the students are introduced to clinical laboratory work and try their hand at image-based functional diagnostics.

Target group and application: The elective addresses senior medical students, particularly those from LMU Partner Universities, who attend this four-week rotation together with senior medical students from LMU. A German „study buddy“ is assigned to each participant from abroad.

Future prospects: The program will continue in 2018.

Students of the Oncology and Neurology Winter School 2017
The Neurology Winter School consist of a series of lectures, tutorials, seminars, bedside teachings, communication training and lab visits with a particular focus on Neurology.

Topics and objectives:

- Principles of neurology and neural science
- Intersections with neurosurgery, neuroradiology and psychiatry
- Methods of diagnosis and treatment

The international students choose a field of interest for patient contact and rounds and integrate into the medical team during the whole Winter School. They attended the daily neurological review conducted by the staff specialists at the Medical Center, hospitalize patients and discuss the anamnesis of physical examination and test results as well as the adequate treatment with their respective ward doctors or consultants. Furthermore, specific tutorials instruct the students how to discuss clinical cases in a problem-oriented and cooperative manner. Small group training sessions and seminars involve diagnostic tools in neurology, interpersonal communication, e.g. “Breaking Bad News”, simulations based on standardized patients and other elements of the medical professional’s skill set.

The Neurology Winter School also features an excursion to the Schön Klinik Bad Aibling, one of the largest and most renowned neurological rehabilitation centres in Europe for stroke and craniocerebral injury.

Target group and application: The elective addresses senior medical students, particularly those from LMU Partner Universities, who attend this four-week rotation together with senior medical students from LMU. A German “study buddy” is assigned to each participant from abroad.

Future prospects: The program will continue in 2018.

3rd Summer School „Teaching Interventions Crossing Borders“

Institute and Clinic for Occupational, Social and Environmental Medicine, University Hospital LMU Munich

The two-week summer school was established in 2008 by the Occupational and Environmental Epidemiology & NetTeaching Unit of the Institute and Outpatient Clinic for Occupational, Social and Environmental Medicine of the University Hospital Munich as a course in Occupational Health. In 2015 we changed the focus of the program to teaching interventions.

Topics and objectives:
The overall aim of this Summer Academy is to train physicians and other health specialists who are currently working or being trained in health from low and middle income countries. This program gives healthcare professionals or students in this field the opportunity to learn the use of innovative teaching methods in order to train the population affected and let them take informed decisions.

Target group and application: Physicians and other health specialists currently working or currently being in training in low- and middle-income countries. The prerequisites for applying are a solid knowledge of English as well as a sound knowledge of qualitative and quantitative research methods.

Certificates: All participants receive a Certificate of Attendance upon successful completion of the whole course. Furthermore, the Summer Academy is accredited with ECTS credit points.

Future prospects: The hosts are eager to keep the topics of the Summer Academy as up-to-date as possible, adapting them to the problems in the participating countries in order to cover aspects that are important to the participants. Therefore, the participants are asked to evaluate the course so that it can be upgraded every year.

Munich University Summer Training in German and European Law (MUST)

LMU Munich, Faculty of Law

MUST started in 2001 as an initiative of LMU’s Faculty of Law. Since its beginning it has included visits to relevant institutions, like the European Patent Office, the Federal Constitutional Court and the Federal Supreme Court of Justice in Karlsruhe. The program was initiated by Prof. Dr. Dagmar Coester-Waltjen and is now under the guidance of Prof. Dr. Ackermann.

Topics and objectives: The course provides an in-depth introduction to German and European Law. Special attention is devoted to areas that are of interest to foreign lawyers working in business law, i.e. corporate, securities, and antitrust law as well as business taxation. The program brings together exceptional lawyers and law students from many countries and provides the opportunity to create an international alumni network.

Target group and application: Any young lawyer or law student who has done at least one year of study at university level can apply for the program. Participants are selected on the basis of their qualifications and academic or practical experiences.

Certificates: At the end of the program participants have the opportunity to take an examination; successful participation in the examination is documented by a transcript with credits and grades issued by the Faculty of Law of LMU Munich. In addition, a Certificate of Attendance is given to all students.

To help participants get in touch more closely with the social environment and the subject matter a free and optional German language course was offered with 2 levels (absolute beginners, advanced beginners) with a workload of 8 x 2 hours in total.

Future prospects: The program has meanwhile become very well-established and has been integrated into the faculty. Thus it will surely continue in a similar manner in subsequent years.

MACIL was organised for the first time in August 2012 by the Institute of International Law of LMU Munich. The 6th MACIL session dealt with the topic of „Human Rights - Keystone or Just another Brick in the Architecture of International Law?“. Lectures and trips were organised around this topic.

Topics and objectives:

• Human Rights and General International Law: Specialty or Coherence?
• Foundations of International Law: Sovereign States v. the Individual
• Human Rights Approach(es) to Environmental Protection
• Human Rights Law in Times of War: its Uneasy Relationship with International Humanitarian Law
• International Criminal Law as a Vehicle for, and Threat to, the Realisation of Human Rights Law?
• Human Rights and International Security
• Human Rights Law and WTO Law
• Human Rights Law and International Investment Law: Protecting Investors and/or Those Affected by Foreign Investment?

Certificates: Students may opt for a certificate of attendance (4 ECTS credits) or for a graded additional essay (6 ECTS credits).

Future prospects: The 7th MACIL session on the topic “Righting international wrongs: Responsibility and redress for violations of international law” is going to take place in early August 2018.

Research on European affairs and on the European Union in particular is one of the core competences of the Center for Applied Policy Research (CAP) and the Department of Political Science at the LMU. In the context of this core competence and efforts to promote international academic networking, Professor Dr. Dr. h.c. Weidenfeld (Center for Applied Policy Research / CAP) and Professor Dr. Goetz (Chair of Political Systems and European Integration) developed appealing summer academies on European Studies. Providing the academic know-how and contacts, CAP initiated the European Studies Program in 2005. Since then, the European Studies Program has been under the guidance of Prof. Dr. Weidenfeld and Prof. Dr. Goetz. The academic partner for the Vienna part is the international relation department of Webster University.

Topics and objectives: The objective of the Summer Academy is to provide students with a broad understanding of institutional development and the economic, societal, political and philosophical dimensions of the European integration project. Furthermore, the course analyses Europe’s role as an international political and economic actor, as well as its relations to different countries and regions around the world. Students with different academic backgrounds and a general interest in European affairs benefit from each other in an intercultural and interdisciplinary learning process.

Target group and application: Prerequisites are a good basic knowledge about European politics, law, history and culture, and a strong interest in Europe in general. Class participation, especially in the discussions with experts, is essential for the success of this course and plays an important role in the grading process.

Certificates: Certificates with grade, transcript and ECTS credit points are received upon successful completion.

Future prospects: The European Studies program will continue in subsequent years.

The Middle East is undergoing considerable change. The Arab Spring has swept away long-standing regimes in Tunisia, Egypt, Libya, and Yemen. In the ongoing Syrian civil war, a heterogeneous opposition has been fighting against the regime and amongst itself. Meanwhile, DAESH, the self-proclaimed „Islamic State“ (IS), has been struggling its border-transcending theocratic state. Fundamental economic challenges, an important cause of the Arab Spring, persist to causing political instability. The heterogeneity and seeming irreconcilability of moral and religious ideals increasingly split societies of Middle Eastern states.

Topics and objectives: This program provides students with a broad understanding of political, economic and societal developments in the contemporary Middle East. It is based on an interdisciplinary approach and combines lectures, discussions, and meetings with politicians and practitioners. Based in Munich, the program also included a field trip to Vienna.

Target group and application: Advanced students with interest in foreign policy, economic and societal developments can apply. An in-depth knowledge of Middle Eastern affairs is not required. Good knowledge of English is compulsory.

Certificates: Certificates with grade, transcript and ECTS credit points are received upon successful completion.

Future prospects: The program is planned to take place again in Munich and Vienna in 2018.

Munich Summer Curriculum (MSC): Electronic Media Studies and Internship Program

Center for Internet Research and Media Integration (CIM) at LMU Munich; in co-operation with The University of Cincinnati (UC), USA and The University of Colorado at Boulder (CU Boulder), USA

There has been a long-standing co-operation between the University of Cincinnati and LMU, Munich. In 2004, both UC and LMU responded successfully to a challenge grant from the German Marshall Plan, administered by the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD), called “Study Abroad in Germany: Put Germany on Your Resume”. The following year, the MSC started as one of the partner programs of MISU®. Since 2011 the program is offered to students from across the US and the globe. In 2013, the University of Colorado at Boulder joined the MSC as a partner institution.

Topics and objectives: The curriculum starts with a „survival“ German language course, followed by a challenging subject-specific study program in the areas of media management, media theory/communications, electronic mass media technology, media ethics and media informatics & human computer interaction. The German language and theoretical courses are complemented by a four-week internship in a German media company located in the Munich area.

Target group and application: MSC addresses sophomore and junior students in relevant majors, such as journalism, mass communication, radio/television/film, business, electronic media, and digital design.

Courses are credit bearing (ECTS/US credits) and are graded. Certificates are awarded upon successful completion of the program. The US credits earned by US students generally count toward their degree requirements at their home institution.

Future prospects: Since DAAD funding ended, the attractiveness of the MSC remained high. In 2010 the quality of the program was underscored by receiving the quality seal from the prestigious Forum on Education Abroad (USA). The program is expected to continue.

The Global Entrepreneurship Summer School is a collaborative project of the four university-based entrepreneurship centers in Munich

The Global Entrepreneurship Summer School is a collaborative project of the four university-based entrepreneurship centers in Munich: LMU Entrepreneurship Center (LMU EC); Strašegh Centre for Entrepreneurship (SCE); UnternehmerTUM; and Center for Technology and Innovation Management (CETIM). GESS was established in 2008 as a joint initiative of the Social Entrepreneurship Akademie and the four entrepreneurship centres of Munich’s universities. This year GESS took place not only in Munich, but also at the same time in Shanghai and Mexico City. The vision of this summer school is based on the claim „Billion Dollar Projects to Foster Societal Change“. Outstanding students from all over the world are encouraged to challenge society’s problems by entrepreneurial means. Participants are expected to think big and to contribute to sustainable change in the dimension of billion.

Topics and objectives: During this summer school student teams develop ideas that have both a sustainable impact for society and a self-sustaining, profitable business model. The students learn about entrepreneurship, develop their own sustainable business ideas and build a long-lasting network of international excellent and entrepreneurial students. In 2016 the overall topic was “Migration”.

Target group and application: Students between 18 – 35 years with a strong interest in entrepreneurship are eligible to apply.

Certificates: A certificate is awarded to all participants upon successful completion of the program.

Future prospects: There is a strong intent to continue this program in the following years. Next year’s topic will be announced on the website: www.globalsummerschool.org

International Summer Research Program in Nanoscience

Nanosystems Initiative Munich (NIM) at LMU Munich

The Nanosystems Initiative Munich (NIM) was founded in 2006 as part of the framework of the German Excellence Initiative and has LMU Munich as its speaker. Further participating institutes are the Technical University of Munich (TUM), Augsburg University, some Max-Planck-Institutes and the Center for NanoScience (CeNS). In 2008, NIM decided to establish an international summer research program.

Topics and objectives: The goal of the program is primarily scientific education. Students sharpen their scientific skills while working with state-of-the-art scientific equipment and developing their presentation and scientific writing abilities. Along with this, they are provided the opportunity to experience German culture and language. In 2016, projects in experimental physics, chemistry, pharmacy and biochemistry were offered, and all were supervised by a graduate fellow. The program aims also to attract excellent international students for PhD-studentships to the NIM institutions in Munich.

Target group and application: Master students with a strong background in natural sciences or engineering and an avid interest to do a PhD are invited to apply.

Certificates: Upon completion of the project participants receive a confirmation of participation, the NIM Student Research Award, and a MISU® Certificate.

Future prospects: There is a general intent to continue this program in the following years.

Summer Research “From Molecules to Behavior” (Amgen Scholars)

Munich Center for Neurosciences – Brain and Mind (MCN) at LMU Munich

Together with the University of Cambridge, the Karolinska Institutet in Stockholm, ETH Zurich and Institut Pasteur in Paris, LMU Munich was selected as a partner with the Amgen Foundation in order to establish an undergraduate summer research program in the fields of biology and biotechnology. Under the guidance of MCN, the Summer Academy “From Molecules to Behaviour” has been running now since 2009. Further participating institutes are: the LMU and LMU Klinikum; the Helmholtz Zentrum München; the Max-Planck Institutes of Biochemistry, Neurobiology and Psychiatry; and the Technical University of Munich. In 2017, 19 projects were offered in the research fields of biochemistry, cell, developmental, and molecular biology, genetics, microbiology, molecular medicine, cellular and organism neurobiology, computational neuroscience, cancer research, plant sciences and proteomics.

Topics and objectives: The program aims to increase learning and networking opportunities for undergraduate students committed to pursuing a career in science or engineering.

Target group and application: Qualified students are selected based upon overall academic success, qualified references, motivation to pursue research, and a sincere interest in pursuing a PhD and a career in science. Due to the requirements of the foundation, only students enrolled at European colleges and universities (according to the European Higher Education Area - EHEA) are eligible to participate.

Certificates: A certificate is awarded by the European Coordination Centre of the Amgen Scholars Program, located at the University of Cambridge.

Future prospects: The first proposal was approved by the Amgen Foundation for 2009 and 2010, which was followed by a successful 2nd phase proposal continuing the program through 2014. In the 3rd phase the program was extended until 2018.

Management Practices and Corporate Communications in a Global Environment

LMU Munich, Munich School of Management

The Munich School of Management at LMU - one of the leading universities for Business Administration in Europe - offers a unique summer program for students from around the world. The course takes place in the heart of Munich and addresses relevant topics of corporate communications as well as international management.

The goals of the course are:

• Understanding of the basics of international business and of the challenges confronting international and intercultural management
• Learning how to analyze business cases and how to apply theoretical concepts to real-world situations
• Improve understanding of management communications, both on a corporate as well as on an individual level
• Learn how companies use communications to implement strategy and achieve competitive advantage
• Develop a broad array of negotiation skills experimentally
• Explore the major concepts and theories of bargaining and negotiation

To reach these goals, we will examine several cases, readings, and/or films that will help students to understand how corporate communications relate to international management. Considerable emphasis will be placed on simulations and role-playing as well.

Target group are bachelor students from all faculties and young professionals with an interest in company analysis and valuation. Prerequisites for participation are a basic knowledge of business administrations and a good command of written and spoken English.

Every student receives an official transcript after the successful completion of all program requirements. The transcript shows the course name and contact hours, the number of acquired credits as well as the achieved grades.

Future prospects: The program will continue in 2018

MISU® German Language Courses

are available at beginners’, intermediate, and advanced levels; one of the courses also prepares for a DSH- or TestDaF-examination, a prerequisite for a degree study in Germany. Specialist classes, such as Academic German complement the offer of MISU® German Courses.

- Summer German Language Course
- Study Preparation Program
- DSH- and TestDaF Preparation Course
- Academic German
International University Club Munich (IUCM e.V.)

These four-week language courses have been offered by IUCM since 1998 in close cooperation with the International Affairs Office of LMU Munich, and have been part of the MISU® since its beginning.

Topics and objectives: Participants aim is to develop four basic skills: speaking, reading, writing, and listening. Special focus is laid on communication, in particular in the areas of culture and academic study. The courses also explore and examine social contexts with a look at everyday life and culture in Munich, and are supplemented by a variety of activities - such as excursions to points of local cultural significance. Trained language teachers, as well as student tutors, are prepared to help the participants along during the program’s various events. Since 2012 additional phonetics tutorials and theater workshops have been provided. In 2017, 57 students participated in the theater workshop and 47 in the phonetics tutorial.

Target group and application: The course is designed for foreign students in all areas of study.

Certificates: By regularly attending the classes students are awarded a certificate with ECTS credit points. This certificate details the number of lessons attended as well as the content and language level of the course in accordance with the regulations of the Council of Europe’s Common European Framework.

Future prospects: The course will definitely continue; only the number of courses of each language level varies during the years.

Since 1999 the Study Preparation Program by LMU has been organized by the LMU partners IUCM e.V. and the Deutschkurse bei der Universität München e.V. in close cooperation with the Office of International Affairs of LMU Munich.

Topics and objectives: LMU’s percentage of international students is about 15%, and several hundreds of foreign students take advantage of various study abroad programs – such as Erasmus – every year. The aim of the preparation courses is to provide these students with an intensive German language instruction, whilst giving them an orientation to student life in Munich as well, so that their studies will get off to a good start. Thus the language part is focussed upon the review and development of language fundamentals for study purposes.

Target group and application: Students with all levels of German knowledge, especially those who plan to continue studying at LMU as a degree or exchange student, can apply.

Certificates: By regularly attending the course students are awarded a certificate with ECTS credit points. This certificate details the number of lessons attended as well as the content and language level of the course in accordance with the regulations of the Council of Europe’s Common European Framework

Future prospects: The program will continue certainly; only the number of classes varies during the years.

MISU® Summer Course: Academic German

is an Intensive Course for very advanced learners that Deutschkurse bei der Universität München e.V. offers in cooperation with the Office for International Affairs of the Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität of Munich and the „Munich International Summer University“ (MISU).

Objective: Refining academic German skills. The aim is to achieve proficiency across the spectrum of academic communication, and thus academic communicative competence at a high level. The general structures of academic language can be found in all disciplines. This is therefore not a subject specific language course, but about conveying generally relevant academic content.

Target Group: Very advanced learners of German (students, PhD students, researchers) with language level C1/C2 (in accordance with the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages), who use German at a high level in an academic environment and want to further improve their existing skills.

Content: The emphasis in this course is placed on structures of academic German: Deepening of academic vocabulary and grammar, writing academic texts, referencing and citation.

In 2017, five dedicated partner programs in the fields of European Studies were organized for participants from:

- the Universities of Queensland, Sydney, NSW, Monash University and Queensland University of Technology
- the Chulalongkorn University Bangkok
- the University of Singapore
- the University of Sogang
- Fudan, Peking, Renmin, Shanghai Jiao Tong, Tongji, Tsinghua and Zhejiang University
European Studies for Students of the University of Queensland, Sydney and NSW also Monash University and Queensland University of Technology

Center for Applied Policy Research (CAP) at LMU Munich Webster University Vienna

This Summer Academy of the CAP provides students of LMU partner universities in Australia an introduction to Europe. It addresses various aspects of European affairs such as economic integration, European cooperation on justice and home affairs, as well as European foreign and security and culture. A particular emphasis of the program is on the relations between Europe, Australia and South East Asia and on a comparative analysis of regional integration. The course is based on politics, social sciences and culture in an interactional interdisciplinary approach. The course combines different methodologies such as lectures, round-table discussions, group-work and students’ presentations.

Target group and application: Participants have a good basic knowledge of European politics, law, history and culture, and an interest in Europe in general.

Certificates: Certificates with grade, transcript and ECTS credit points are received upon successful completion and are accepted by the NUS registrar’s office.

Future prospects: The program takes place in Munich, Prague and Vienna and has been running since 2008. It is expected to continue in 2018.

The Center for Applied Policy Research (CAP) and the Chair of Political Systems and European Integration at LMU Munich, in cooperation with the Institute for the Danube Region and Central Europe (IDM) and the European Academy of Sciences and Arts

LMU intensified its collaboration with important partner universities in China and founded the LMU China Academic Network (LMU-ChAN) in 2014.

Part of the network are “Anchor Partnerships as comprehensive strategic partnerships“. They consist of collaboration at an institutional level, exchange programs, and/or common teaching activities, and collaboration within research projects.

Additional Universities in the Network create a second collaboration model, which is for specific scientific collaboration and/or focuses on specific research activities.

Given LMU’s wide range of scientific research contacts in China, additional partnering universities with a great deal of potential to advance research in distinguished scientific areas, including the Chinese Academy of Sciences (CAS), will gradually be added to become part of the network.

Since 2015 the LMU Summer University (MISU) offers LMU-ChAN partners and their students the short time study program “EU Studies“. The program focuses on political sciences. The aim of the Summer Academy is to provide its participants with a basic understanding of the economic, societal, political and philosophical dimensions of the European integration process. A particular focus is laid on the European science and technology policy and on Europe’s role in international trade and finance. In 2017 the connecting theme for all European Studies Programs at LMU was “Next Europe“. This was the guideline from the European Academy of Sciences and Arts.

Based on an interdisciplinary approach, the course combines different methodologies such as lectures, round-table discussions, group-work and students’ presentations along with excursions.

Future prospects: The Program takes place in Munich and Vienna and is expected to continue in 2018.

The course was intellectually stimulating: teaching methods were...

Instructors / teachers were...

Through participation my level of experience and knowledge increased.

Overall I would rate my program
I would recommend this program to friends and fellow students.

I would consider returning to LMU at a later point in my academic education.
